Gentlemen:

At the Fourth National Convention of the National Maritime Union of America, the enclosed resolutions were unanimously adopted. The Convention was attended by 250 delegates, representing the unlicensed personnel of our contract vessels, which comprise the ships of most of the steamship companies in the United States.

We feel that these resolutions affect and interest you, as they do the entire American people. We, therefore, take this occasion to call them to your attention.

Very truly yours,

Ferdinand C. Smith
